

2009 ISU Summer Speech Institute

Public Address Week: July 12-17

Oral Interpretation Week: July 19-24

Two Week Intensive: July 12-24

Application Deadline: June 12

Withdrawal Deadline: June 22

Oral Interpretation Week - Prose, Poetry, Dramatic Duet Acting, Humorous Duet Acting, Humorous Interpretation, Dramatic Interpretation, Duo, and more!

Public Address Week - Extemporaneous Speaking, Radio Speaking, Special Occasion Speaking, Original Oratory, Original Comedy, Oratorical Declamation, Impromptu, and Informative (Expository) Speaking.

Two Week Intensive - This option allows students to focus on preparation in any event for two full weeks. This option is preferred for students who would like additional coaching in revision and delivery.

Institute Philosophy

The emphasis of the Institute is on teaching both novice and experienced students the skills and theory necessary to successfully participate in interscholastic speech activities. The ISU Summer Speech Institute meets all the recommendations of the National Development Conference on Forensics. Every participant will have an opportunity to work with an experienced teacher in small classes to prepare and polish their events. The workshop has consistently maintained an instructor to student ratio of 1:4.

Institute Staff

The heart of a dynamic workshop is, of course, the staff. ISU has assembled an outstanding group of successful coaches from both the high school and college ranks. We also welcome successful college competitors as faculty, along with ISU graduate student coaches and members of our nationally recognized ISU speech team.

Materials and Lectures

In addition to event coaching, the Institute offers workshops and activities to educate students on all aspects of speech competition including tournament etiquette, team building, and peer coaching. Students will return to their schools with packets of materials to share what they've learned with their teammates.

Institute Facilities

Students will reside in double-occupancy rooms in the air-conditioned university residence halls. Sheets, towels, and pillows are provided. Mutual roommate requests are accepted. All meals from breakfast Monday to lunch on Friday are provided. Housing for those attending both sessions will also include rooms on the weekend with staff supervision. We regard residence hall living an important part of the summer experience. Our professional staff members are responsible for the policies, conditions, security, and student supervision in the residence halls. Participants will also have access to the million-volume ISU library, an excellent resource for researching public address speeches, interpretation events, and preparing extemporaneous speaking files. The structure, opportunities, and adult supervision available at ISU make it a first choice for concerned parents.

150 Years of ISU Forensics

We hold the proud position of being the oldest student organization on our campus and one of the most successful. We have placed in the top 10 at the American Forensic Association and National Forensic Association national tournaments for nearly 20 years and have won national titles 4 times in 10 years.

This level of dedication and commitment to excellence can be found in our Institute:

In 2008, 22 of our Institute participants made it to IHSA State in 28 events...

15 made it to State Finals...

3 became State Champions!
